NCJW GREATER PHILADELPHIA SECTION
2018 -2019
A YEAR IN PICTURES

ADVOCACY

Our Advocacy Committee focusing on the pressing needs of voter registration, the nomination of fair and independent judges, education, and anti-sex trafficking.

Rallying for health care for all.

Speaking out at the Unite for Justice Rally to oppose judicial nominees who present risks to women's reproductive rights, environmental and worker protections, LGBTQ rights, health care, affirmative action, public education, and background checks for semi-automatic weapons,

Our NCJW Section members with Senator Toomey's staff registering their concerns with Justice Kavanaugh's judicial record, and the rapidity and lack of transparency and of access to relevant materials with the nominee's congressional review.

President's Message

As I reflect on this past year, I continue to be amazed at the devotion, hard work, and deeds of Loving Kindness that our NCJW women have performed. This dedication and commitment to the Jewish values of Tikkun Olam prevail in everything we do and have done. NCJW is not merely a local organization, but one that is nationwide, in Israel and as far as Australia! Our work of ADVOCACY, EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY SERVICE have continued for 125 years with a mission that is the same as it was, when NCJW was created by our founder, Hannah G. Solomon.

Our volunteers have spent hours volunteering to help children in schools as tutors, providing clothing and gathering school supplies for them, making breakfast at the Ronald McDonald House, supplying toiletries for women who are victims of sex trafficking and providing grant monies to agencies that will enable them to help their clients. In addition, we now, after having received a grant from the Kedson family, are providing cultural experiences to children who have never been exposed to the cultural arts. With our other granting funds, we are able to help some children attend summer camp, who otherwise would never be able to have that experience. Recently, our section received an honor that we can be so incredibly proud of... the EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION AWARD that was given to us by HAMEC...the Holocaust Awareness Museum and Education Center. This award was in recognition of our section's exceptional leadership, dedication and outstanding contributions to advocating for and promoting the fields of Holocaust studies and education. How humbled I was to be the guest speaker on behalf of our section. How proud I was as I looked around the room and saw so many NCJW members and advocates. We will continue our work in the coming year in promoting Holocaust education and in combatting anti-Semitism, genocide and racism.

Our work in advocacy and social justice has expanded and will continue to do so. As a result of the Advocacy Committee's hard work, more and more members have participated in legislative action, and lobbying work at both the state and national level. The ten local women who attended the NCJW National Washington Institute back in April, have all agreed to assume leadership roles on our Board of Directors and on committees.

Our Fund Raising and Education/Programming activities reached so many of you this past year with more and more participants and as a result we have obtained more members. Speaking of Membership... our section's membership has gained almost 50 new members so far, this fiscal year. New member orientations and social activities have all helped to make our members feel involved and welcomed into our NCJW family. I salute our two outgoing Membership Vice Presidents; Judy Fried and Wendy Rader, who have served in this capacity for several years. Judy and Wendy will assume new responsibilities on our Board of Directors.

In addition, I want to thank Diane Plotnick, our outgoing Grants Committee Chair, Gladys Greenfield, outgoing Tribute cards chair, and Margie Zukerman one of our Program VP's, for their leadership roles. These women will be assuming other key positions within our section.

There are so many other people who have chaired activities and volunteered to make our year a success. It is difficult to thank them all in this message but I hope to recognize them at our Annual luncheon and Installation of Officers on June 4.

PLEASE feel free to call me (215-280-0046) at any time to share ideas and suggestions. Without you, our members, we would not be able to continue our work on behalf of the inspiring national and local agenda promoting social justice and human rights.

Have a safe and enjoyable summer.
B'Shalom.

Barbara

A masterful presentation by our member, Diane Steinbrink.

Dr. Moylan Mills, Professor Emeritus of Integrative Arts at Penn State captivated our large NCJW audience with his presentation on the life of conductor and composer, Leonard Bernstein

EDUCATION

We visited the Rube Goldberg Exhibit at the National Museum of American Jewish History. Rube Goldberg was born on July 4th 1883 in San Francisco. He was known as an inventor, sculptor, author, engineer and cartoonist and would make a mark in history for his extraordinary achievements.

ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE REGIONAL DIRECTOR, Nancy K. Baron-Baer, spoke to our section on the issue of "Anti-Semitism Around the World and in Our Own Backyard."

EDUCATION

Our Greater Philadelphia Section delegates attended workshops and discussion groups when more than 500 Jewish activists from across the country convened in Washington at the National Council of Jewish Women's (NCJW) Washington Institute for three days of back-to-back trainings, panel discussions and meetings with members of Congress. Together, they advocated for access to reproductive health care by way of the EACH WOMAN ACT, gun violence prevention, and a fair and independent judiciary.

WOMEN SOLDIERS AND SPIES OF THE CIVIL WAR

This presentation addresses those women who chose to become soldiers and spies during the Civil War. See how their ingenuity and society's perception of them allowed them to perform successfully in both these endeavors. Learn why they selected the path they did and how they were able to function effectively as soldiers and influence history as spies. Discover how their will to survive the war and to create a future for themselves and their families drove them from their traditional roles and into a new world for women. Performed in period costume.

Barbara Nussbaum will be sponsoring the Annual Luncheon in honor of the NCJW Board of Directors and Harriet Gran our Bulletin Editor and Mal Gran our Website Manager.

"Your generous donations at the luncheon will be appreciated! Consider bringing your cash or NCJW check contributions to our luncheon to help NCJW to provide additional grants and support to even more people across our communities."

REMINDER: Also bring toys to the Ronald McDonald Oncology Camp. And the 2019 NCJW Annual Raffle drawing will be held at the luncheon, so don't forget to buy your raffle tickets in advance.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Our volunteers support the mission of the Holocaust Museum and Education Center by providing transportation for Holocaust Survivors and facilitating the sharing of their experiences with students in various schools.

Beaming with pride, attendees delight in the occasion of the presentation of the Holocaust Awareness Museum and Education Center's award for Excellence in Education to our NCJW Greater Philadelphia Section President, Barbara Nussbaum by HAMEC Director, David Feldman. The award was given in recognition of the exceptional advocacy, leadership and dedication of NCJW members to promoting the field of Holocaust studies and education, which advance the values and mission of the Holocaust Awareness Museum and Education Center.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO CONTRIBUTE

NCJW volunteers at the Ronald McDonald House provide breakfast and more to families staying there from out-of-town while their critically ill children receive treatment at St. Christopher's Hospital. To all participants in this "nourishing" program, know that you make a meaningful difference. Unforgettable are the words of one parent who looked at our volunteer group and said, wistfully, "this is what my mother would do for me if she could be here." Interested in becoming a volunteer? Prepare breakfast for patients and their families as part of our NCJW Guest Chef Program at the Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House.

Our new schedule will be published in September.

Please give me at least 2 weeks notice on date(s) you can participate.
