THE WORLD NEEDS JEWISH WOMEN

NCJW confronts today's most urgent social and economic challenges facing women, children and families. Powered by the Jewish imperative to ensure dignity for all, we impact policy, advocate for justice, and support the community. Your voice has never been more essential and our voices together make a meaningful difference in the world.

NCJW National Priority: Promote the Vote/Protect the Vote

NOVEMBER 6, voters will go to the polls for the all important mid-term elections. In Pennsylvania, we will elect the following federal and state officials:

One U.S. Senator for Pennsylvania

All Pennsylvania seats in U.S. Congress – Be aware of the new congressional voting districts in Pennsylvania!

Governor of Pennsylvania

One half of the Pennsylvania State Senate – the even numbered state senate districts

All Pennsylvania state representatives to Harrisburg

Plus, local races in each city or town.

A lot is at stake: reproductive rights, public school funding, access to affordable health care, U.S. federal court system, voting rights....

So what will NCJW women do? Be well-informed and vote on November 6.

Between now and election day, our Section's nonpartisan advocacy committee will continue to update you through e-mails, handouts at NCJW meetings and calls to individual members. Know the candidates' positions on issues that impact our lives.

MAKE YOUR VOTE COUNT!

President's Message

It is hard to believe that the summer of 2018 is almost over. We are getting ready for the Jewish High Holidays: a time to reflect and to improve both our individual lives as well as to find the strength and inspiration to improve the world around us. I, for one, am still inspired and in awe of the 125-year legacy of NCJW and am ready to work with all of you as we face a most challenging year ahead. Our founder, Hannah G. Solomon's vision and commitment was legendary, and her high standards live through everything we do, and every action we take. This legacy, one of leadership, community, inclusion and Jewish values has sustained us all these years and will continue to do so.

So...where are we now? We face tumultuous times. So much of what we see around us leaves us feeling as though we must do more to support women, children and families. Our national Board of Directors decided to move its offices to Washington D.C. where NCJW can make its greatest impact to ensure that social justice and speaking on behalf of human rights will be heard. Here in Greater Philadelphia, our Board has agreed to place Advocacy as an even greater priority, so we created a strong Advocacy Committee; one that will be taking on the challenge of getting everyone we encounter to GET OUT and VOTE on November 6. Never has this message been more important than it is now. You will have the opportunity to help with this endeavor.

Over the summer, our officers have met with their committees to plan an exciting year of programs, and meaningful activities. We are expanding our community service activities and hope to offer more opportunities for you, our members, to become more engaged. Our Membership improved significantly last year and, as a result, we plan to have new social activities and new member "get togethers" as well. You will also be able to participate in more Taste of Culture activities which helps to build community and bring in even more new members and volunteers.

My hope is also to build another core group of leaders who will continue to secure the future of NCJW Greater Philadelphia. Our membership has grown in Bucks County and we hope to continue this growth in other areas around Greater Philadelphia. Developing strong leaders around our geographical area will continue to serve the needs of our community and will ensure that our voices will be heard and our actions will truly make a difference.

L'Shana Tovah to you and your families

Barbara Nussbaum

If you are interested in leadership training...talk to me! Leadership experience is certainly a plus. Still, many members who may not have what may be considered a "track record of leadership", may have taken initiatives at home, in your community, or at work which show potential to hone leadership skills.

If we've planted a seed, call me at 215-280-0046 or e-mail me at barban@aol.com.

HOLOCAUST ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS

Our Holocaust Essay Contest went very well this year thanks to my co-chair Celia Rothkoph and my readers: Rhena Kelsen, Essie Cutler, Harriet Gran, Lee Tonic, Paula Goldberg, Sandra Lewis, Joan Sax, Julie Goldman, Barbara Auerbach, Carol Aronson, Lila Windheim, Judy Fried, Gloria Salmanson, Joyce Eveloff. We had three schools participating this year. Upper Dublin sent us essays from 12 sixth grade classrooms. A Charter School in Philadelphia sent us essays and poems from their 7th grade and 8th grade. Springfield Middle School sent us essays from their gifted students. We scored a lovely picture in the Exponent showing the winners at Springfield. Thank you to all who participated. This is a very worthwhile project which our section has been doing for many years.

In remembrance of Phyllis Kedson who died on May 30, 2018

Phyllis Kedson, a past president of our NCJW section, was inspired to bring the documentarians of SIX MILLION PAPER CLIPS, which chronicles in a book and film the making of a Children's Holocaust Memorial, an 8th grade project in Whitehall, Tennessee to our section members.

Our NCJW section is hoping to expand on Phyllis's initiative. Our Holocaust Essay Chairperson, Evelyn Goldhammer will be pursuing the possibility of providing access to the film of the SIX MILION PAPER CLIPS to our middle school students participating in our Holocaust Essay Contest. How meaningful it may be for our student participants to see an example of their age peers being interested and empowered to tangibly memorialize their learning.

You can access an account of this extraordinary story in the May 2016 NCJW Bulletin on our website:

ADVOCACY COMMITTEE OFF TO A GREAT START!!

In addition to working on voter registration and education, members of the Advocacy committee have continued their efforts to ensure that our federal courts, and especially the Supreme Court, have fair and independent judges. Our Benchmark Chair, Eleanor Levie, has been sending regular email alerts about NCJW's position on various judicial nominees. We ALL should be ready to call our Senators and make our feelings known. If you are not on Eleanor's alert list and would like to be, please email her at elevie@comcast.net.

We have continued to work with the PA anti-trafficking coalition to pass the Safe Harbor bill that we've been promoting for almost two years. This bill would keep young trafficking victims out of the criminal justice system and help them get the services they need to turn their lives around. We plan to have one more lobby day in Harrisburg before this year's session ends and urge our legislators to do the right thing.

Under the leadership of our Advocacy VPs, Linda Lempert and Betsy Parziale, we have a number of other issues to work on after the election on November 6. If you would like to join this enthusiastic group, email Linda at lindalempert@verizon.net.

NEWS FROM OUR ADOPTED SCHOOL, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN ELEMENTARY

ON JULY 18, Lee Tonik and I met with Benjamin Franklin Elementary School Principal Ms. Roslyn Sample Green, who shared feedback for our NCJW school volunteers regarding the reading progress made by the students to whom we were assigned. According to Ms. Sample Green all of our students showed benefits, some substantial, achieving multiple higher reading levels. She is looking forward to sharing the results with our volunteers within the parameters of observing privacy guidelines.

This coming school year our volunteers will be provided ample space in the library in the main school building located at 5735 Rising Sun Avenue as space in the rented annex had become constricted. We will be tutoring students from the one first grade in the main building as well as some second graders beginning the week of September 17. Principal Roslyn Sample Green expressed her value of our NCJW Section school volunteers as members of their school community, now entering our fourth year of service.

Interested in joining our group of school volunteers?

Please call me at 215-836-5993 or e-mail me at hgranncjw@gmail.com

HAPPY 10th BIRTHDAY RONALD McDONALD HOUSE!

NCJW GREATER PHILADELPHIA SECTION was represented at the 10th birthday celebration of the Ronald McDonald House (RMH), by our member, Zelda Stern, who coordinates our volunteer program there. Our volunteers, on scheduled Sundays, come to RMH where they cook and serve tasty breakfasts to families who are staying there while their seriously ill children are treated at St. Christopher's Hospital.

The Ronald McDonald House, located at Front and Erie, was launched by a group of dedicated parents who had slept in hospital lobbies, their cars and ate from vending machines, to be near their children, often being great distances from their homes. It took an historic planning and fundraising effort. RMH has since served 3,358 seriously ill children from all 50 states, 3 U.S. territories and 44 countries. Besides breakfasts, our NCJW Section has provided clothing for families and new toys for the Ronald McDonald summer camp where ill children can enjoy the outdoors with their medical needs attended to.

We are privileged to support this exceptional facility and program.
