Co-President's Message

Dear friends,

This message comes to you while I am on the mend from back surgery. Our NCJW Section can look forward to a smooth transition from our traditional leadership with a president at the helm to an executive council. The transition to our new presidium will begin July 1 to coincide with the new fiscal and program year.

We are hoping to have a formal installation of officers when it's safe for everyone. Otherwise, we may do an installation using Zoom. Thank you Diane Steinbrink for doing such a wonderful job with the Nominating Committee.

It may be summer but we have maintained a beehive of activity. Our Presidium members are immersed with decisions on how they will work with our Publicity Chair, Website Manager who also does the email blasts, our Bulletin Editor, and how we will communicate with the outside community. We are also pursuing our own ZOOM account so meetings can be held during this Covid time where we still have work to do with you, our members and in the community.

The Program VP's have already planned webinar programs for several months which you will hear about. Advocacy is and has been busy at work with their committee working alongside Lynne Jacobs, our SPA. Our wonderful Grants Committee, under the able chairmanship of Wendy Rader, has approved funding for various agencies and organizations that give directly to help food insecurity. (as was requested by the Board). Our Publicity Chair Kay Skloff, has submitted an article to the various press telling them of our work to help feed people. The National office has received our contribution for the Israel Projects and is most appreciative. Membership is gearing up for the next phase of recruitment and retention.

Our section was asked by National to be a Pilot Section for tracking members to ensure accuracy in a new data base system. Harriet Winokur, our Financial Secretary, is our liaison for this.

As you can see, we are doing everything we can to keep our section viable, and to prepare for the next phase of leadership. I want to also add, that the feedback we have received as we all reached out to our members to check in with them, was met with great appreciation. Thanks to all of you who participated in this. Thank you Sandy Fryer for coordinating.

I especially want to thank Cindi Pasceri, my Co-President this past year. I truly needed a Co-President this year in order for me to continue a third year and I could not have asked for a better, more trustworthy and capable person to work with. Cindi and I will be available to our new leadership to offer suggestions and advice when needed. Along with Lynne Jacobs, our SPA, I will be a liaison with National NCJW.

Please, all of you stay healthy and don't let down your guard with this Covid 19!!! I hope to see you at some point later this summer when I am up and about!

Lots of hugs (from a distance!)
Barbara Nussbaum

The Jewish Case For Abortion Access: Discussion, Study, and the Launch of NCJW's Abortion and Jewish Values Toolkit

Tuesday, May 26 at 4:30 pm ET

Speakers: NCJW Board Vice President Rabbi Lori Koffman, ALEPH: Alliance for Jewish Renewal Executive Director SooJi Min-Maranda, Rabbi Danya Ruttenberg, Rabbi Rachel Timoner

The National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW) is proud to debut the Abortion and Jewish Values Toolkit, an extraordinary new resource designed to offer tremendous support and insight into our work to protect and expand abortion rights and access for all. For over 125 years, we have boldly imagined a world where every person can make their own moral and faith-informed decisions about their body, health, and future. Now, in the face of false narratives and appalling rhetoric concerning this critical issue, it is more important than ever to lift up the voices of people of faith who advocate for bodily autonomy because of our religion, not in spite of it. Join us on May 26 at 4:30 pm EST to hear from a panel of experts as they discuss the Toolkit and explain how YOU can effectively convey Jewish values and traditions in your reproductive health, rights, and justice advocacy work.

Managing Change the Resilient Way

Looking for a roadmap for managing unexpected change in your life? Good or bad, change can be stressful, overwhelming, and even leave you feeling lost. Whether you're struggling with a change in relationships, health, or lifestyle, learn how to manage change rather than allowing it to define you. In this interactive discussion, learn the remedy no one taught you in school. Discover the secrets of resilience and how to strengthen yours.

Jan M. Zacharjasz, MS, Certified Life Coach will be our Speaker

In these trying times it is important to stay in touch with our members. "Staying Resilient through the Coronavirus and Beyond," is the title of our first ever Zoom program, which will take place on Tuesday, June 23, 2020 at 2:00 pm. Jan M. Zacharjasz, Certified Life Coach will be our speaker. As the stay-at-home phase of the pandemic lingers, now more than ever it is important to stay strong and connected. We are all in this together, and no one should go through it alone. But how do we do this? How do we adjust to all the change of the past few months? How do we move forward in the face of uncertainty? How do we prepare for the "new normal," whatever that looks like? Jan helps people discover a novel approach...uncover the power of resilience, and learn strategies for how to boost yours, and how to gain courage and confidence through significant life changes, so you can move forward and thrive again.

To register for this program and receive the Zoom link,

An Armchair Conversation With Sarah Hurwitz

Sarah Hurwitz, author of Here All Along: Finding meaning, Spirituality and a Deeper Connection to Life-in Judaism was senior speechwriter for President Barack Obama and head speechwriter for Michelle Obama. After leaving the White House, she was appointed to the United States Holocaust Memorial Council by Barack Obama. Hurwitz will share how she reconnected with her Judaism after leaving the White House.

"Sarah Hurwitz was Michelle Obama's head speechwriter, and with this book she becomes Judaism's speechwriter. In a time when many people have lost faith, her timeless wisdom and graceful writing will delight even the most steadfast skeptics of organized religion."

—Adam Grant

The Female Hebrew Benevolent Society has been providing immediate financial assistance to local Jewish women in financial crisis since 1819. NCJW has been honored to contribute to the FHBS as part of our mission.

Cindi Pasceri

Our Grant to FHBS

A $1200 grant has been provided to FHBS to support this deserving young mother.

Kelly is a 23-year-old, single mother with a four-year-old son. She works full time to support the household. In 2015, Kelly attended a medical assistant program at Star Career Academy. Upon the completion of her coursework, and just prior to her final exams, the school closed without warning, leaving Kelly with hefty student loans and no certification. She was hired by St. Mary's Medical Center and worked there until January 2020 when she was let go for calling in sick when she had to pick up her son from daycare due to illness. The job at St. Mary's provided no provision for personal time out, and each absence from work was treated as a recordable offense.

Immediately upon being fired, Kelly reapplied for SNAP and Medical Assistance for herself and her son. She spent each day submitting applications and attending interviews. In mid-February 2020, she was offered a job as a receptionist in a medical imaging office for $16/hour, less than she had been making. She took the job but will once again lose her SNAP benefits and her state funded medical insurance. Although she will be able to obtain medical insurance through her new employer, the coverage will cost her more than at St. Mary's. Kelly's son will remain covered by Medical Assistance through the state due to his age.

Kelly is looking forward to taking the exam to become a certified phlebotomist, which will open the door for better career opportunities.

Coronavirus Addendum: Kelly is up to date on rent for March, but concerned about April. Her office is currently still open, but she believes they may close Friday, March 20, since they provide non-essential medical services. Meanwhile, her son's daycare facility is closed, and she has been paying a sitter. She is playing the waiting game now with work to see if they will remain open. She will most likely file for UEC if that happens.

FHBS will pay Kelly's entire rent for the month of April. Hopefully, this will help her get through a time that is challenging for all of us but even more so for a young mother whose resources – financial and familial – are extremely limited.

Eileen S. Sklaroff

NCJW Grant of $1200

It was decided to use the generous $1,200 grant from the National Council of Jewish Women Greater Philadelphia Section to assist Kelly further. Beginning on November 1, 2019, her rent stipend increased to $375/month. This will continue until October 1, 2020. Kelly's work ethic, her strong determination to turn her life around and her drive to provide the best for her son give us confidence that she will continue to achieve success in reaching her goals. NCJW's funding will play a large part in making that possible.

All voters in 19118 who wish to vote in person will do so at Springside Chestnut Hill Academy.
All voters in 19119 who wish to vote in person will do so at Lutheran Theological Seminary.
City workers have been recruited to staff all polling places so that election board workers who do not wish to work on Election Day need not put themselves at risk.
The City Commissioners Office will provide masks and gloves to all workers and any voters who don't already have them on site.

VOTING IS THE KEY TO PROTECTING ALL OF OUR RIGHTS !!!
VOTING IS ACTIVISM !!!

A few little known regulations that you should be aware of:

- Your completed ballot must be received in the county office by 8:00pm on Election day. A late ballot will not be accepted, even if it is postmarked before the deadline.
- There is a warning on the mail in ballot application that once you are approved for a mail in ballot you are not permitted to vote in person on June 2.

★ ★ ★ I will vote ★ ★ ★

Dear Friends and fellow voters:

Now that many of US have already received or will soon receive our mail-in ballots here are some bits of advice you should pay attention to:

1. The font for the list of delegates to the National Conventions is minuscule! Each delegate is committed to one particular presidential candidate. READ CAREFULLY OR YOU MIGHT SELECT A DELEGATE THAT YOU WOULD NOT WANT.
2. The instruction to the voter printed on the ballot says: "If you make a mistake, do not erase. Ask for a new ballot. (It would take a long time to get a new ballot by mail.) (The mail in ballots are no different from the ballot you would receive if you were to vote in person on June 2. In person you could simply ask for a another blank ballot, not so easy for a mail – in.
3. Use only a black pen or marker Very important. (The yellow instruction sheet sent to Montgomery County voters says use a black or blue color pen to fill in the little circles. Ignore that. USE ONLY BLACK)

For those of you who have not yet applied for a mail in ballot online, ignore the questions that ask you for a reason you need a mail-in ballot. (Just answer "NO"). It was just last year that our state legislature passed the law to permit "no excuse needed" to obtain a mail-in ballot, so it looks like PA Department of State did not change the wording on the online application.....

BREAKFAST IS STILL BEING SERVED AT THE RONALD MCDONALD HOUSE!!!

The Corona virus has not halted our NCJW Greater Philadelphia Section's support of the Guest Chef Program at the Ronald McDonald House. Although our members' physical presence and cooking talents are on hold for the time being, Zelda Stern, who leads the program reports that funds provided by our Section will continue to help to provide breakfast. Breakfast is provided to families staying at the Ronald McDonald House while their critically ill children receive treatment at St. Christopher's Hospital.

Under Zelda's leadership, our relationship with the Ronald McDonald House has grown. Our Section has been able to donate toys and games for their summer camp as well as warm clothing for family members coming from warm climates. Zelda is sent monthly updates on news and needs of the children and families served by the Ronald McDonald House.

Ronald McDonald House Update

The Ronald McDonald House has been closed to outside volunteers since the start of the pandemic. NCJW has decided to send a check for $150 to help support the Ronald McDonald summer camp program. This camp is for children recovering from cancer, and is usually held in August. We will let you know when the House reopens to volunteers, and we can get back to providing and serving breakfast to the wonderful families of the children hospitalized at St Christopher's Hospital in Philadelphia.

Any questions about ways to help, please call, Zelda Stern at 215-394-8455.

Help! I'm stuck in the sitting room

This year is 60 years that I am a member of NCJW. I am proud of the continued actions of National and our Section during this pandemic. I learned from three outstanding national webinars. I was proud to chair a zoom meeting of our Section's Nominating Committee which resulted in a wonderful slate of officers for the coming year. I am proud to be a part of our Section's Grants Committee which provided grants for food banks in our community. I have enjoyed making phone calls to some of our members who were appreciative of hearing from us. As you can see, NCJW has filled some of my pandemic social distancing with meaningful activities. In the words of Anne Frank who still believed that people were good at heart, I am glad that we have been people "who are good at heart".

I keep my ideals, because in spite of everything I still believe that people are really good at heart.
