Co-President's Message

Introducing PAULINE HANAUER ROSENBERG

A few months ago a young man named Matthew Falcone contacted me asking for help in securing a Pennsylvania Historical Marker for the home Pauline Hanauer Rosenberg, one of the founders of NCJW, lived in with her husband Hugo from 1888-1898 in Pittsburgh. Pauline Rosenberg served as NCJW's first vice president and its second president and in 1894, helped found not only the Pittsburgh section but sections in Philadelphia, Youngstown and Washington, D.C. (These excerpts are from an article in the Pittsburgh Jewish Chronicle.)

Pauline Rosenberg attended Barnard College. She also took graduate courses at Columbia University.

Our Greater Philadelphia Section was asked to sign a petition to support Falcone's request to issue an historic marker in front of the house. We sent the petition on after the board signed it. Sheila Katz, CEO of NCJW added her support.

Pauline Hanauer Rosenberg and an enlightened group of women have provided us with an important legacy to follow. We have important work to do. How lucky we are to know how our group started and how we continue its mission

The state commissioners met in February to determine whether the house will receive an historic marker. STAY TUNED!

NCJW HAS GRIT

In five press releases since the start of this year, NCJW CEO, SHEILA KATZ and NCJW Chief Policy Officer, Jody Rabhan affirm NCJW'S resolve to oppose the Trump Administration's initiatives and actions taken which run counter to Jewish values and our mission to SAFEGUARD INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS.

NCJW IMPERATIVES:

To counter the nomination of jurors such as Andrew Brasher for a lifetime seat on the federal judiciary who has a "record of advocacy for racial gerrymandering and defending laws that disproportionately disenfranchise voters of color". NCJW will continue to build an educated electorate to enable courts which reflect diversity and a commitment to equality for all.

"NCJW demands that Congress immediately pass the NO BAN Act (HR 2214/S 1123) to repeal all versions of the Muslim Band and change immigration law to prohibit discrimination based on religion".

NCJW will sustain its fight for the basic human right to access to health care in the face of the Trump Administration advancement of harmful changes to the Medicaid Program putting 74 million lives at risk. Women comprise 63% of enrollees and covers nearly half of all babies born in this country.

In response to the Administration's continuing cruel attacks on immigrants, NCJW, which has worked on issues of immigration for 125 years, and has submitted hundreds of comments opposing these measures will continue to fight for the rights of all marginalized people, targeted by these attacks.

NCJW, in response to the recent anti-semitic attacks in New York, "calls on state lawmakers to update and expand the New York State Hate Crimes Law to ensure robust protection." NCJW urges commitment to building a culture rooted in respect and empathy across the country.

2-4-6-8!
Who do we appreciate?
THE GOOD GUYS!

Our Greater Philadelphia Section made and delivered beautiful trays of sweets to thank those who work Christmas shifts to serve our communities.

My granddaughter and I delivered our beautiful trays to Barren Hill Fire Company, Whitemarsh Township offices, Whitemarsh Police and Jeanes Library. Everyone was so appreciative and my granddaughter got a real thrill out of seeing everyone's reaction to our goodies (some of which she helped bake with me). It is very fulfilling for me to see the impact this activity has not only on the recipients, but also on a young person who can clearly see the importance of giving back to others.

Goodies to Abington Hospital ER delivered by Patti First & Donna Spector

Thanks to Amy Beitman, shown with the Warrington police and in the group picture at her home for chairing GOODIES for the GOOD GUYS in the Bucks County area.

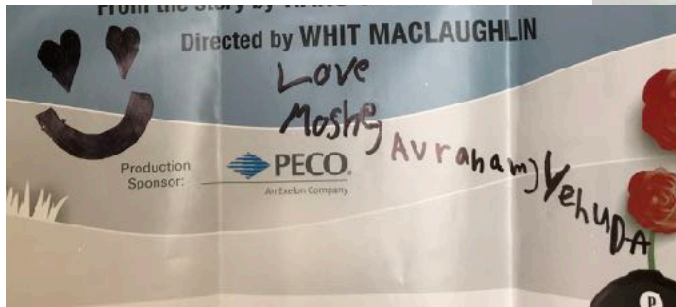

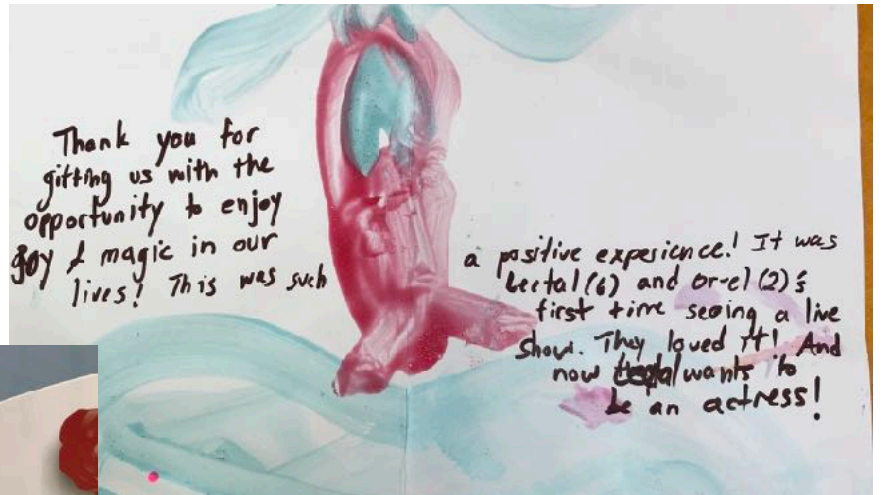

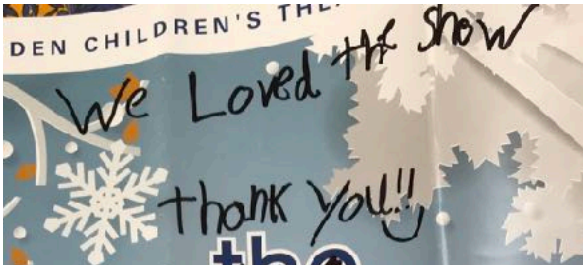

"MAGIC IN OUR LIVES"

These words were expressed by one of four families who were gifted tickets to see THE SNOW QUEEN at the Arden Theater this past December. Their memorable experience was made possible through a fund established by our NCJW Greater Philadelphia Section made possible by a generous contribution from Leonard Kedson and his sons, David and Ira in memory of their mother, Phyliss. Phyliss Kedson served as our Section's President from June, 1982 to June, 1984. She remained an active and involved member until her death last year.

In keeping with Phyliss's priorities: children and their well-being, the Phyliss Kedson Memorial Children's Fund will allow our Section to provide tickets primarily for Jewish children to attend Philadelphia children's cultural events that they might not otherwise be able to afford.

Thank you, Diane Steinbrink for facilitating and keeping us posted on what is achieved by the fund for children.

A great turnout of our Greater Philadelphia Section members in commemorating the MLK Day of Service at the National Giving Alliance. Thanks to Sherri Kohn Eisman for chairing this event.
